Brain cancer kills more children in Australia than any other disease.

Sadly, many people are unaware that childhood brain cancer is the most lethal yet understudied of all cancers.

Worryingly little is known about this disease, other than some devastating statistics. No risk factors or known causes have been identified and no screening procedures are in place.

Tragically, survival rates have not improved in over 35 years and despite this childhood brain cancer receives very little funding, relying mainly on families and the community to fund vital research.

Take Action and personally spread awareness about childhood brain cancer. Give Hope by making a plea to our politicians that research funding needs to be a national priority and help Create Change by donating to a fund where 100% of all funds raised go directly to research and support programs.
